

Allow community to vote up/down answers

My suggestion is to allow the community to vote answers up or down, similar to other Q/A sites, such as Stack Overflow.

Sometimes, an incorrect answer will be marked correct or helpful. By allowing the community at large to vote answers up or down, this may help mitigate bad answers that are marked as correct and allow good answers not marked correct to bubble up. On a related note, when reading a particular topic, answers could be sorted by number of up votes, regardless of which answer is marked correct.
