

Purge the contact email addresses in the Test email environment

We see a dozen of contact email addresses in the recent email addresses list when sending a test email today. That would be great to be able to purge this list and restart with new contact emails, when changing company email domain, or group of requestors for instance.

That is impossible today, until selecting 11 new contacts to replace one by one (last in, last out).